FAMILY OF FRIENDS

The wine industry is at a crossroads; it is becoming increasingly important to highlight family led wineries and owners that are true stewards of their craft; showing enormous respect they have for the land and vast knowledge in producing finely made wine with what the terroir and weather provides. We have visited these wineries, tasted with the owners, talked about the how and what that goes into every bottle. We have built indelible connections with the land they farm and the community that farms. They have become dear friends; family even. These connections now are directly passed to you as you gather around our tables, for each wine is a story to pair with your meal; to build upon and share and create your own connections, one vintage at a time.

THE K.I.S.S. COCKTAIL MENU

*Below is a sample of the cocktails we can make here at Smith & Wollensky.
We ain't fancy, we ain't mixologists; but we do make good strong drinks.
Prices are dependent on the spirit, listed on the opposite page, unless otherwise noted*

The Classics

Martini

Gin or Vodka, pick one. Dirty, Dry, Olives, Twist; Whatever - Just don't make it a Brooklyn coffee shop order

Manhattan

It's Named after the island your a on now

Old Fashioned

Like our Bartenders

Negroni

Gin is for the Traditionalists. I prefer the Mezcal

Cosmo...politan

I once saw someone drink five of them and walk off into the sunset. Color me impressed

Sounds Complicated

Espresso Martini 23

The X is silent, as they should be

Paper Plane

'If you come around here, I make 'em all day; I get one done in a second if you wait'

French Martini

I swear to all that is near and dear, if they drop another bottle of Chambord, I'll take it off the menu

Lemon Drop Martini

It isn't really complicated; however, my relationships with people that order them are

Spritz

Aperol 18

They are great for digestion, terrible for hangovers

Hugo 18

IHow many more of these do I need to put on here?

OLD WORLD WHITES

Characteristically, wines from the Old World tend to be lighter-bodied, more restrained, and lower in alcohol, though this is very much a generalization and not always true. The main trait all Old World wine countries have in common is that their wine making is heavily restricted, with guidelines all wineries must follow. Each country and region of that country in the Old World has been making wine a certain way for centuries, and current winemakers are held to those old standards.

OLD WORLD WHITES

New World wines come from everywhere but Europe, and are in hotter climates which causes wines from the New World to be fuller bodied with bolder fruit flavors. In these regions the winemaking practices vary dramatically, and put more emphasis on making wine that takes advantage of modern advances and tastes.

CABERNET FRANC

Cabernet Franc is the the parent of some of the most celebrated grape varieties in the world - Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Carménère. Proven to be a robust variety, consistently producing good-quality wines in a range of climates. If you haven’t embraced the endless charms of Cabernet Franc lately, now is the perfect time to change that as there have never been so many beautiful expressions of the grape as there are today.

BORDEAUX

Rising up from the confluence of two great rivers where the land meets the sea, the 2,000year history of Bordeaux is intertwined with that of its surrounding region. Both in terms of its geography and its spirit. From the marriage of Eleanor of Aquitaine to Henry, Duke of Normandy (later King Henry II of England) in 1152 and continuing today, Bordeaux has been central in the world of wine.

This region can be divided into two main regions, Left & Right Bank. The real difference between the Left and Right Bank lies in the soil, which in turn dictates the predominate grapes planted. The Left Bank is dominated by gravelly soils made up of pebbles, gravel and sand. Cabernet Sauvignon grows best here, as it needs good drainage and warmth from the heat retention.

Right Bank wines are mostly composed with Merlot; with clay, sand and limestone soils playing to merlot's thick skinned nature.

THE PILLARS OF LEGACY

*The wines below have been with us for decades, and pair perfectly with our Prime Cuts.
There are combinations in life that make sense; Peanut Butter&Jelly, Bagel&Schmear, Steak&Cabernet.
We look forward to continuing the tradition of having these historical wines as part of our list for years to come.*

Domnius

Christian Moueix named his winery Dominus after the Latin word meaning ‘lord of the estate,’ appropriate for the winemaker of Petrus working the soil in Napa’s historic Napanook vineyard. This Bordeaux blend channels the delicacy and nuance of the old world with the robust power of the new.

Clos du Val

Founded in 1972, in the Stag’s Leap District, Clos du Val was chosen as one of six Cabernets to compete in the historic “Judgement of Paris” Tasting. We are extremely lucky and proud to offer a library of back vintages from this famed winery.

Heitz

Family owned since its founding in 1961, Heitz’s legacy runs as deep as the roots throughout the Napa Valley. In the 1950s, pioneering vintner Joe Heitz ushered in Napa Valley’s first vineyard-designated Cabernet Sauvignon.

Opus One

Opus One is the realized dream of two men: Baron Philippe de Rothschild of Chateau Mouton Rothschild in Bordeaux and Napa Valley vintner Robert Mondavi. Together, the founders set out to create a single wine dedicated to the pursuit of uncompromising quality. This singular mission shapes every vintage, today and for generations to come.

Paul Hobbs

After launching Opus One, Paul served as a winemaker at Simi Winery before consulting at several famed estates—including Peter Michael and Lewis Cellars - honing his expertise and deepening his belief that vineyards, when nurtured gently, yield the most interesting wines. These experiences shaped Paul’s enduring vision: To craft single-vineyard wines that transmit the terroir of California’s most fascinating vineyard sites.

Chateau Montelena

Chateau Montelena along with a few other wineries helped put California in the limelight of the wine world in 1976 after the Judgement of Paris. Although they became gained attention for their Chardonnay, the Barret family has been producing some of the best Cabernet’s in Napa Valley over the past 40 years.

Cain Five

The planting of the Cain Mountain Vineyard began shortly after the Cains purchased the property. This initial phase continued through 1988, followed by replanting from 1996 through 2006 onto phylloxera-resistant rootstocks. Replanting has begun again after the 2020 Glass Fire burned directly through the bowl of the Cain Vineyard, taking most of the vines and all of the buildings.

Silver Oak

Silver Oak began over a handshake between two friends with a bold vision: focus on one varietal, Cabernet Sauvignon, aged exclusively in American oak. Ray Twomey Duncan and Justin Meyer co-founded Silver Oak out of a Napa Valley dairy barn in 1972, producing only 1,000 cases of their inaugural vintage.

It was a historic achievement at the 1976 Judgment of Paris blind tasting where Stag’s Leap Wine Cellars 1973 S.L.V. Cabernet Sauvignon was awarded the highest honor in the red wine category above First Growth Bordeaux Chateaux. That moment solidified the fate of Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon and Stag’s Leap Wine Cellars as a worldly icon in wine.
