PINOT NOIR

The new world/old world distinction in wine is the continental divide, which has both geographical and stylistic implications. In geographic terms, old world refers to the more tradition-laden wine-producing countries in Europe, whereas new world means the relatively new regions around the globe. To demonstrate this divide, we have chosen the Pinot Noir grape which we believe best exemplifies this comparison.

RHONE VALLEY

North

The Northern Rhone valley stretching from Vienne to Montélimar is home to the most majestic expressions of Syrah in the world. The steep mountain precipices of Côte-Rôtie give way to the rolling hills of St. Joseph followed by Cornas with it’s dark, brooding wines. Across the Rhone the land rises up the hill of Hermitage, whose wines have been coveted by kings for centuries.

South

South of Valence to the Mediterranean port of Arles, wines are made with perfumed Grenache blended with a multitude of grapes indigenous to the South of France. Each producer centered in, or around Chateauneuf-du-Pape, finds the perfect recipe for each plot of land. The resulting wines are truly greater than the sum of their parts.

THE PILLARS OF LEGACY

*The wines below have been with us for decades, and pair perfectly with our Prime Cuts.
There are combinations in life that make sense; Peanut Butter&Jelly, Bagel&Schmear, Steak&Cabernet.
We look forward to continuing the tradition of having these historical wines as part of our list for years to come.*

Dominus

Christian Moueix named his winery Dominus after the Latin word meaning ‘lord of the estate,’ appropriate for the winemaker of Petrus working the soil in Napa’s historic Napanook vineyard. This Bordeaux blend channels the delicacy and nuance of the old world with the robust power of the new.

Stag’s Leap Wine Cellars

It was a historic achievement at the 1976 Judgment of Paris blind tasting where Stag’s Leap Wine Cellars 1973 S.L.V. Cabernet Sauvignon was awarded the highest honor in the red wine category above First Growth Bordeaux Chateaux. That moment solidified the illustrious fate of Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon and Stag’s Leap Wine Cellars as a worldly icon in wine.

The planting of the Cain Mountain Vineyard began shortly after the Cains purchased the property. This initial phase continued through 1988, followed by replanting from 1996 through 2006 onto phylloxera-resistant rootstocks. Replanting has begun again after the 2020 Glass Fire burned directly through the bowl of the Cain Vineyard, taking most of the vines and all of the buildings.

Paul Hobbs

After launching Opus One, Paul served as a winemaker at Simi Winery before consulting at several famed estates—including Peter Michael and Lewis Cellars—honing his expertise and deepening his belief that vineyards, when nurtured gently, yield the most interesting wines. These experiences shaped Paul’s enduring vision: To craft single-vineyard wines that transmit the terroir of California’s most fascinating vineyard sites.
